KPMG in Thailand's Supply Chain Reimagined Team

In today's volatile trade environment, decisions across manufacturing, sourcing, logistics, and Incoterms have a direct impact on costs, customs duties, tax exposure, and regulatory compliance.

KPMG in Thailand's Supply Chain Reimagined Team brings together specialists from customs, tax, legal, strategy, and operations to help businesses optimize their supply chains, enhance resilience, mitigate tariff risks, navigate regulatory complexity, and maintain a competitive advantage.

Transfer pricing

We support businesses throughout their transfer pricing journey, helping them assess risks, design practical transfer pricing policies, prepare required documentation, and implement solutions that align with their business.

Business advisory

We help businesses transform their supply chains and operating models across sourcing, manufacturing, logistics, working capital and workforce, enabled by technology and AI to drive greater resilience, efficiency and value creation.

International trade and customs

We help businesses navigate evolving trade and customs requirements by providing guidance on rules of origin, assessing tariff impacts, import/export restrictions and evaluating customs arrangements that may help reduce duty costs and improve customs efficiency.

Tax

We support businesses in managing tax risks and planning opportunities in Thailand, while implementing practical corporate income tax and VAT governance processes that strengthen compliance and facilitate growth.

Legal

We support the legal implementation of supply chain changes, including business establishment, commercial contracts, supplier and distribution arrangements, regulatory requirements, helping businesses address regulatory and contractual requirements for new operating models.
